

Cardioversion

Cardioversion is a technique where people with an irregular heart rhythm are given an electric shock to bring their hearts back into normal rhythm.

A Greek study found that giving 2 grams of Vitamin C 12 hours before cardioversion and then 500mg twice daily for 7 days reduced the relapse rate.

In those given Vitamin C only one relapsed whereas in those not given Vitamin C 8 relapsed.